PRESBYTERIANS ORGANIZED IN
Nurture & Teaching

Is POINT for You?

Presbyterians Organized in Nurture and Teaching (POINT)

POINT is part of the Presbyterian Publishing Corp. POINT Partners help with questions that people have about curriculum resources for congregations and presbyteries. If you are interested in finding out who the POINT Partners are in your region, suggesting people who could be POINT Partners for a presbytery, or becoming a part of POINT yourself, contact Katie Snyder at ksnyder@presbypub.com. POINT Partners are encouraged to attend the POINT training event at APCE, and they receive access to our online POINT resource library and Facebook group. POINT also offers partners opportunities to participate in giveaways, exclusive webinars, and more.

If you would like to be in the know about what is being developed in the curriculum world but don't want the responsibilities of being a POINT Partner, consider becoming a member of POINT. You will still receive the latest information about new curricula but will not need to be a representative to your presbytery.

POINT Member versus Partner Chart

Benefits	POINT Member	POINT Partner
Access to our Facebook group	Yes	Yes
Access to the online POINT resource library	Yes	Yes
Latest information about new curricula and resources	Yes	Yes
Opportunity for in-person training/event at APCE	Optional	Yes
Free samples to use in sharing with others		Yes
Special discounts and free gifts		Yes
Membership	Free	Free

APCE training events are free, but travel is at your own expense. We hope that you are able to come. If you ever need to change your POINT membership status, please contact Katie Snyder, the POINT Coordinator, at ksnyder@presbypub.com.

Should you be a POINT Member or Partner?

POINT Member Expectations

Point Members are volunteers who want access to our POINT resource library and Facebook group. They also receive the latest news about various resources and curricula.

Ways We Support POINT Members:

- Access to the online POINT resource library containing all kinds of extras that can help you in your ministry
- Access to the POINT Facebook group where members share helpful ideas and information
- Emails containing the latest information about upcoming resources and curricula

POINT Partner Expectations

POINT Partners are volunteers who commit to sharing Presbyterian Publishing resources with other educators and churches. This extra level of commitment also gets you more resources.

POINT Partners:

- Engage in your presbytery and let people know that they can ask you about curricula. For example:
  - make an announcement at a presbytery meeting
  - ask your presbytery to list you as their POINT Partner on their website
  - wear a name tag at presbytery meetings that says you are the POINT Partner for this area
- Share resources in your presbytery and get the word out about available curriculum resources. For example:
  - set up a table display of samples at a presbytery meeting
  - lead a workshop showcasing curricula for your presbytery
  - help churches select curricula
- Provide feedback to POINT leadership team:
  - tell us how we can be responsive to what churches need
  - request resources people suggest

Ways We Support POINT Partners:

- Free samples to use at presbytery meetings or workshops
- Training and other in-person events at APCE
- Periodic special discounts
- Free gifts for being a POINT Partner
- Access to the online POINT resource library
- Access to the POINT Facebook group
- Emails containing information about upcoming resources and curricula being released